3 Years In A Row: Brookstone Capital Management Named to 2016 Financial Times 300 Top Registered Investment Advisers

WHEATON, IL – June 20, 2016 – Brookstone Capital Management (BCM) is pleased to announce that it has been named to the Financial Times (FT) 300 Top Registered Investment Advisers for the third consecutive year. The list recognizes top independent RIA firms from across the U.S.

This is the third annual FT 300 list, produced independently by the FT in collaboration with Ignites Research, a subsidiary of the FT that provides business intelligence on the investment management industry. More than 1,500 elite RIA firms were invited to apply for consideration, based on their assets under management (AUM). RIA firms were then graded on six criteria: AUM; AUM growth rate; years in existence; advanced industry credentials; online accessibility; and compliance records.

“Making this list three years in a row is a special achievement,” said BCM Founder and CEO, Dean Zayed, who cites the focus on new technologies, comprehensive training, and innovative investment managers as important factors in being selected. “At BCM, we continue to diligently innovate in order to face today’s volatile markets head on while adhering to our risk-managed approach of diversifying across multiple strategies. We think this allows investors to manage wealth for both performance and protection, and an indication of our success is being named to the Financial Times 300 list,” Zayed added.
